

Deep Enough

Here's the real test
Can I keep my nerve
Can I be the man
That I professed to be at first
With pretty words
Like anyone who's on a roll

Here we are the two of us
Fighting for our love
If it doesn't sometimes hurt, you say
We're not going deep enough

Oh my ego's bruised
Like any fool
I say I'm just out of sorts
I refuse to be the man
The also ran
Who doesn't give this everything

Here we are
The two of us
Fighting for our love
If it doesn't sometimes hurt, you say
We're not going deep enough

We are not the first
To lose our path
Out among the dark and cold
The universe will turn
The stars will burn
In and out in spite of us
